Kossuth on European Affairs.-In letter to a gentleman of New York, Kos such presents the following aummary of the state of Europe:

1. A small ministerial change here in men, not in policy; England's absolute nudity of inherent weakness; England's aristouracy decaying fast; the British Empire drifted towards a revolution scarcely to he prevented any more. 2. Bonsparte drifted from folly to folly and to full. 3. No patching up of peace possible, though everybody be best on it. 4. The thentre of war soon to be transferred to the interior of Europe, and the contest generalized.

BRISTOL, WARREN AND PROVIDENCE TEL EGEAPH .- The Providence Journal states that this telegraph is now completed, and ready for the transmission of messages.

Successor of Gen. Scott.-Some speculation exists as to which of the Major Generals will be entitled to the rank made vacant by Gen. Scott's elevation to the Lieutenant Gueralcy. There will be a contest between the friends of Gen. Wool and Gon. Twiggs, who are both Major Generals by brevet. The brevet of General Wool is older than that of Gen. Twiggs, but the latter has managed to procure the recognition on various occasions, of his claims to precedency; and it is thought that the Sec-

Cours.-Great is Gwin! According to the Democratic papers, California connet possibly be represented in the Senate except by Gwin. The Boston Post can see nothing but the bluest kind of ruin in the defeat of Gwin. And now the Senate has passed the Pacific Railroad bill to help Gwin. If this goes on much longer, the very verdent will begin to think that Gwin is really somebody. Measures ought to de adopted to prevent the spread of such a terrible hal-Incination.

The parents of a young man convicted of forgery at Chicago have been arrested for perjury, having sworn that he was born. in 1838, when it appears by the family Bible that he was born in 1835.

Successful Forgery .-- A successful forgery was perpetrated upon the Merchants' Bank of this city a few days since. A check for $1,400, purporting to be drawn by Messrs. Lyman, Reed & Co., was prostated at the counter, during a busy period of the day, and the teller, without doubting its genuineness, immediately cashed. Tho forcery was only discovered the next day when the Bank sent word to the supposed drawers that their account was overdrawn The perpetrator of this bold forgery has not yet been arrested .- Baltimore Patrio!.

The Methodist Church Case.-The Cin; cinnati Christian Advocate says the Southorn Methodist Church suit against the Methodist Book Concern, at Cincinuati, has been adjusted by the Commissioners appointed for that purpose. The terms are as fol-

The Book Concern is to pay the Methodist Episcopal Church South, $80,000, and the southern debts; $20,000 in stock, and the balance in cash -- $15,000 down, the remainder in instalments of one, two, three, four and five years. It is understood that the Book Concern pays the taxable costs yet due, and that they endorse the debts and notes of the southern preachers without recourse. As to all other costs, each party pays its own.

COMPLIMENTARY,-Senator Wilson in his late speech used this language :-- I undertake to say here that the railways of New England are not worth fifty cents on the dollar of their cost."

Mike Walsh announces his determination to contest the election of Alderman Lelly to the next-Congress, from the 4th district of New York.

THE COURT OF CLAIMS .- We are hear (tily glad to beable to announce the passage of this bill by the House of Representatives, It needs now only the signiture of the President to become a law, and notwithstanding the Chief Magistrates' penchant for exercising the veto power, we presume he will not exert that prerogative in the present case, as the bill gives him an opportunity of exercising; some considerable and important parrology. We regard this measure as one of the most important, if not indeed the most important, that has been passed by the present Congress, either at this or the former sessions. The National Intelligencer justly remarks that it will save probably one-fourth of the time of Congress, now spont in the examination and discussion of claims; besides which it will "not only secure an early hearing and prompt settlement of just claims, but will get rid of the interminable renewal of unfounded ones, and thus save the time of Congress from being wasted year after year in the examination of rejected ciaims." The intelligencer thus defines the provisions of the bill :-

The bill gives jurisdiction to the Court to hear and determine all claims founded upon any law of Congress, or upon any regulation of an Executive Department, or upon any contract express or implied, with the Government of the United States, and all claims referred by either house of Congress. The testimony in all cases is to be reported to Congress, and all upon which Invocable decisions are given are to be ac-Companied with a bill or bills to earry them into effect, and with briefs from the solicitor of the Board and from the claimant.

It will be thus seen that the Court is to perform the work now laboriously but imperfectly done by committees, and Congross is to revise the whole and act upon On the subjects presented, as at present. many subjects an opinion, well matured by the Court, will serve as a basis for action in all similar cases; and there will not perhaps be so many inconsistencies in legislation as at present, when the success or failure of a measure depends, in a great degree, upon the mood in which one house or the other may happen to be found when the vote is taken. At all eventa, there is the probability of a more mature investigabe hoped we shall hear but little more of Minister of Foreign relations, in which he what is deemed worse than the "law's delay," the pendency of claims before Congress of half a contury's duration.

DEATH OF THE MAINE LAW AT TRES-TON .- A FEMINING DEMONSTRATION IN THE | the Gardiner case, which has been pending SENATE! We have already recorded the for some time past on the equity side, of the melancholy death of the Maine Liquor Law, over in New Jersey, an Friday last. A Friday; when Judge Moraell delivered the correspondent of the Newark Advertiser following opinion, and made the subjoined Senate to reconsider the vote upon the Probibitory Liquor bill was lost-one cause of this is said to have been the disgraceful conduct of some females who were in the gallery, the day before, when the bill was defented.

At the announcement of the vote they disfigured their pretty lips by hissing. Subsequently, one of them in the gallery, exhib ited her imlignation in a manner not very admirable, by folding up a copy of the liquor bill and launching it at the head of Mr. Allen, who was prominent in opposing the bill.

After the adjournment of the Senate a still greater violation of lady-like behaviour was perpetrated. Mr. Bonnel, of Sussex. was requested to step to the bar and be introduced to some ladies. On complying with this request, an intoxicated old woman was shoved for ward, and one of the laties said to Mr. B., "you have insisted to defeat this bill, now smell of this woman's breath and see what will be the result of your nation !" Mr. Bonnell replied in a manner which made the self-styled ladies blush for their conduct.

The bill is defeated for the year without hope of resusitiation.

eral Russian officers of high rank in this country for many months. They came here to oversee the building of the man-ofwar by W. H. Webb. The war has provented their returning, as well as the commencement of the vessel. I suppose they have been engaged in the selection of mechanics to go to Russia, as there is no doubt that the government, whether through thom or not, are now negotiating for engineurs-one capable of building the machinery for a first rate steam frigate, &c., nt a reported salary of $$35 000 per anmmm-it is possible the half may be trueand several subordinates at corresponding prices, one a physician at $7,000 per annum. All Things Created with a Purpose.-In the days of Mohamme i, there lived on Arab who had a very pretty wife. The Devil transformed bimself into so accurate n likeness of her inusband, that she could nat, for the life of her, tell which of the two was her real husband. Both claimed her,—i. e. her real hu-band and the Devil in his likenesses. The case excited much interest in the neighborhood, but no solution of the difficulty could be obtained. At length the case was brought to the Prophet for solution.

Mohammed after a little reflection, held up a small earthern pot in his hand, with a spout in it like a teapet, and said to them both, "Now, whichever is the real husband will enter into this versel by the spout and thus establish his claim to the woman."

The Devil as having more capacity in that way than the sturdy Arab, of real flesh and bones, entered at once into the pot, as suggested. The moment he entered, Mohammed closed the top of the spout and kept him shut in.

But by the time he had kept his "excellency" shut up for a few days in that earthen pot, it was ascertained that the world was getting wrong in its machinery. Mehammed was therefore constrained to let the Devil out from his confinement to take necessary place in the management of the affairs of the world. But, before restoring him to his liberty, Mohammed extorted a a solema promise, that he would-never trouble the "fair sex" any more, but confine himself to what he could do among st the "male sex."-Mohommed Tradition.

THE END OF MR. SOULZ'S MISSION.-According to a Madrid letter writer an attempt made by Mr Soule to depart from Mudrid with some eclat proved a decided failure. The correspondent says that the American Minister caused it to be privately intimated tiggt he should expect, listers leaving, an audience from the Ministerial Council, but was informed through the same channel that though the Minister of Poreign Relations would not stand upon his amour propre in the matter, such a request would almost be a personal moult to that Minister, and would be one unknown to diplomatic usage. So Mr. Soule did not deem it expedient to make that request. He subsequently had an interview with the was treated with formal politeness, but nothing more.

Final Decree in the Gardiner Case We learn from the Washington papers that Circuit Court, was brought to a close on

The Court to satisfied that the claim set up by Geo. A. Gardiner for damages, as allowed in the award of the commissioners, was false and unfounded; that the award was obtained by fraud, and was null and avoid ; that the money paid out of the treasury of the United States under such circumstances continued its character as the money and property of the United States, and may be followed into the hands of Messrs. Corcoran & Riggs, who are not the true owners of said fund.

The Court then made a dearce to the effeet that the awards were obtained by George A. Gardiner by means of false swearing, forgery and fraud, and were therefore null and void; that his estate is indebted to the United States in the sum of $428,750, with interest from the 16.h of May, 1851; that Corcoran & Riggs should bring into court, on the fourth Monday of March next the stocks and securities in their hands, amounting to $89,000, being part of the funds obtained by Gardiner under said awards, and also an admitted balance said awards, and also an admitted balance in cash of $8,737,46; and that the cause be referred to Walter S. Coxe, as special auditor to state an account of said Corcovan & Riggs of dividends collected by them &c.,

A New Morive Power.-At the supper of the Mechanics Apprentices Library Association on Thursday evening, Mr. Thomas Drew, of the Worcester Spy, in replying to a toast of the press, stated that he had seen a machine in operation, which, when it becomes known, is destined to have more effect on mechanics than any other subject now before the people; and which is exid to take the lead of any motive power now known. An engine of 5 or 6 horse power could be maintained at an expense of six cents per day, and could be taken tears of by a child of 7 years of age without danger; doing away entirely with the expense of fuel. The description of the above will probably be given to the public during the coming week,-Roston Rec.

CATAWRA BRANDY .- We tasted some Catawba brandy, last week, which was made in Cincinnati, by Langworth, from the Catawba grape, which, in flavor and mildness was equal to the finest Champagne Brandy that we import from France There is no reason why we should import a gallon of brandy, or gin, or whiskey either for that matter, and if the temperance men would but propose some scheme for bringing American wines and liquors into use in the place of fureign, they would promote the cause of temperance much more effectually than by the passage of any probibitory or restrictive laws. Volcasio Referring Platol.—We have seen and fired a pistol, recently invented and patented, which bids fair to excel every thing in that line that has yet been offered to the pupils: attention. It seems to combine all that could be desired in such a weapon. Colt's pistol compared with it seems like a distortion, or a chansy, uncouth and reliculous affair for a fire arm. The volcanie pistol carries a Minie or conical ball, in a rifle barrel, and will put it through three inch plank at a distance of minery rods. The receiving tube will hold ten ball cartridges, which may be deposited in two seconds of time. The pistol may be discharged thirty times in fifty seconds. It Is so contrived that it is not liable to accidental discharge. There is no priming, no caps, and therefore no danger to the eyes from any ignition near the breach. Neither is there any recoil, so as to jur the arm or disturb a sure aim. The whole construction is so simple as not to get out of order even from long use. The powder and ball are enclosed in the same metallic cover, so that a person could swim a river with one of these in his belt without in the slightest degree injuring the powder. In short, the weapon is in all r specis one of the most perfect things in the shooting line that we ever took into our hands .- New
